MIKE ROWE
Television Host and Narrator

Lessons from the Dirt
Mike Rowe earned the title “dirtiest man on TV” from his hit TV series, Dirty Jobs, which took him to all 50 states to complete 300 different jobs. Listen as Rowe shares the surprising lessons he has learned on the road as an apprentice and the reality that a little elbow grease goes a long way. In the process, he reminds us of the enormous but forgotten benefits of hard, honest work, and how it affects everything from our national identity to our infrastructure and the economy.

After his candid presentation, be sure to drop by the AFP Membership Center, in Booth 1735 to snap a pic with the dirtiest man on television at the Mike Rowe Selfie Station.

SHANKAR VEDANTAM
Author, The Hidden Brain
Social Science Correspondent, NPR

Finance & The Hidden Brain
Shankar Vedantam offers unique insights into how our unconscious biases—what he calls the hidden brain—affect the decisions we make both personally and as groups and organizations. Like a puppeteer behind a curtain, biases don’t just live in our individual brains; they play a major role in the influence of the success or failure of organizations. Join Vedantam as he explores how the behavior and decision making of individuals and organizations are shaped by hidden psychological factors they rarely stop to consider.

Get a preview of this keynote with the AFP Conversations Podcast featuring Mike Rowe at www.AFPonline.org/Conversations.

Leadership From the Board Room to the Oval Office

Michael Beschloss, a presidential historian and columnist for the New York Times, will share revealing leadership secrets and some of the most lethal mistakes made by Presidents and other towering figures in history. Treasury and finance executives will walk away with key elements that make up an impactful leader as Beschloss shares stories, invaluable lessons learned, and insights on how we can apply the best from pivotal leadership moments to our own lives and organizations.

Blockchain Revolution

Don Tapscott, co-author of Blockchain Revolution and Wikinomics and author of The Digital Economy, will argue that blockchain technology will not only transform financial services, but also the structure of the corporation, while having profound implications for competitiveness, business strategy, and leadership.

Are Companies More Powerful Than Countries? How the Roles of Business & Government Will Merge in the Future

Rana Foroohar, global business columnist and associate editor at The Financial Times, will sketch ways that the most creative companies are taking on jobs that used to be part of the public sector and the risks and potential rewards that come with it.

Making Data More Human

Jer Thorp, co-founder of the Office for Creative Research and former data artist in residence at The New York Times, will put abstract data into a human context to address the question, “How can understanding the human side of data lead to effective change?” From mapping the way people share articles across the internet to the 9/11 Memorial in Manhattan, Thorp’s cutting-edge visualizations use technology and data to help us learn about the way we use digital technologies, become more empathetic in the data age, and ultimately, tell the story of our lives.
Don’t Let the Quit In
As one of the first women ever given the opportunity to attend the equally rigorous and prestigious Army Ranger School, Major Lisa Jaster battled her way through a training course that humbles most men. Despite trials, Jaster maintains quitting was never an option. Join Major Jaster as she explains how she stayed motivated during those dark moments, and why “Once you think about quitting, you let the quit in you.”

Inventing the Future: Thriving in a World of Constant Change
Massive change is a permanent feature of the business landscape. Mature businesses are under pressure to evolve rapidly and new startup ventures face a throng of global competitors. As a highly regarded digital media pioneer, Robert Tercek shares five proven strategies for identifying opportunities in a chaotic field, motivating a team to unite around an inspiring vision and how to execute what was previously unimaginined.

Exponential Finance
As the world becomes more digital, advancements in technology are skyrocketing and disrupting jobs, companies and entire industries. Technology strategist Salim Ismail sees the future of these fascinating projects and believes they are sure to impact the lives of treasury and finance professionals, while also challenging societal norms. His take on the financial services sector will have you thinking twice about what your organization will invest in for the future.

Practical Cybersecurity Advice for the Treasury & Finance World
With so many technology changes, people everywhere are wondering how to stay safe and one step ahead of hackers. World famous cybersecurity expert, ethical hacker, author and former U.S. Marine, Bryan Seely shares his insights on how secure our companies really are. From payment systems to email scams he shares strategies treasury and finance professionals can employ to ensure they are protecting their organizations from a potential breach.

CAN I REALLY AFFORD TO BE OUT OF THE OFFICE?

Ann Anthony, CTP
Treasurer, South Jersey Industries, Inc.
Board Member, AFP

If you are like me, you find yourself living life at what seems like the speed of light. Commitments at work, responsibilities at home; it frequently seems like there just aren’t enough hours in the day to fit it all in.

So in the days and weeks leading up to Conference, I find myself questioning whether I can really afford three days out of the office. Three days! How will I get my work done and still be present for the actual conference sessions and events? Step 1: Plan. Step 2: Be Present. Step 3: Maximize your time at AFP 2017. All of a sudden, three days don’t seem like enough! And now I’m asking myself, Can I really afford not to go?

Whether you’ve secured your ideal job or are still searching, you still need to develop as a treasury or finance professional. Throughout my career, I have found various avenues to explore and grow my treasury knowledge while also refining financial and industry acumen. But the AFP conference is by far the most influential in my career development. Here’s how I make the most of each AFP conference: define a purpose, maximize every session and create your own opportunities.

AN INTROVERT’S GUIDE TO AFP 2017

Stephanie Uhl, CTP
Assistant Treasurer, Forest City Realty Trust, Inc.
Board Member, AFP

I’m naturally introverted, so I feel very uncomfortable in situations with people I do not know. My heart races, I get sweaty palms... the whole thing. So as you can imagine—attending the AFP conference with 6,499 of my closest friends each year is very intimidating.

It may shock you that my advice to you is this: Attend the networking events. Tough as it may seem for us introverts, you need to realize that you are also a corporate treasury and finance professional. Where else can you be around other people who love treasury, FP&A and finance as much as you do? Ever try talking about the administrative burden of standby letters of credit with your closest family and friends? It’s not a big hit.

Read the full blog at www.AFP2017.org.
Arrive early for AFP 2017 and take advantage of the Pre-Conference Workshops. Choose a full day or half day format and receive a tangible toolset to conquer specific challenges or issues in your organization or career.

MULTI-DAY WORKSHOPS

Intensive Certified Treasury Professional (CTP) Exam Review
Saturday, October 14  |  8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m.
Sunday, October 15  |  8 a.m.-3:30 p.m.
Monday, October 16  |  8:30 a.m.-5 p.m.
Not Approved for CPE, CTP/CCM or FP&A Credits
Add $1,095

AFP’s Intensive CTP Exam Review Course is a three-day review of the concepts and challenging calculations presented in the body of knowledge upon which the CTP exam is based. You’ll join other professionals focused on CTP exam preparation and learn test-taking tips that will help you succeed. This fast-moving program is intended for those who are well into their exam preparation studies and are registered to take the CTP exam in the December 2017/January 2018 testing window.

AFP Treasury Learning System is required for this course and must be purchased separately.

Treasury Management Fundamentals
Saturday, October 14  |  8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m.
Sunday, October 15  |  8 a.m.-3:30 p.m.
Credits: 15.0 FP&A  |  15.0 CPE
Not Approved for CTP/CCM Credits
Add $995

Gain a thorough understanding of the fundamentals of treasury management and get ideas for ways treasury departments can add value to your company while increasing responsibility and visibility. Participants complete a journey that begins with the overall role of treasury and its relationships to financial service providers and then continues with working capital, payments, money movement, capital markets, borrowing and investing. Cash forecasting methods, ways to identify various risks and financial management round out the general topics covered. This course also explores ways treasury departments have stepped outside normal responsibilities to expand their contributions and visibility within their companies by becoming unofficial consultants to other departments.
SATURDAY PROGRAMS

Advanced Cash Flow Forecasting
Saturday, October 14 | 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m.
Credits: 7.8 CTP | 7.8 FP&A | 7.8 CPE
Add $795

Statistical techniques provide extremely helpful tools for forecasting future cash flows. This course uses practical examples to show how various statistical methods can be used to forecast components of the cash budget. The advantages and disadvantages of each technique are discussed along with how to interpret results. The majority of the seminar covers the practical application of statistical methods using Excel. This course aims to develop practical, in-depth skills through hands-on applications of statistical forecasting techniques. Attendees leave the course with an understanding of how to deliver best-in-class cash forecasts.

NEW—Designing and Managing RFPs for Finance
Saturday, October 14 | 12:30-4:30 p.m.
Credits: 4.5 CTP | 4.5 FP&A | 4.5 CPE
Add $575

Creating Requests for Proposals (RFPs) are an essential part of finding the best solutions and products to meet an organization’s specific needs. Since they are only conducted on an as-needed basis, there is often confusion or a lack of understanding all of the necessary elements for the most effective RFP. Based on the AFP Treasury Advisory Group whitepaper, this course provides finance professionals a guide on when and how to conduct RFPs, strategies to effectively manage the RFPs process, and key points in vendor selection and contract negotiation. This course will also review what to do when the RFP is over and implementation must begin.

Financial Analysis: Critical Thinking and Decision Making
Saturday, October 14 | 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m.
Credits: 7.8 CTP | 7.8 FP&A | 7.8 CPE
Add $795

Finance professionals are no longer expected to only present the numbers and statements. Leadership is becoming more dependent on the finance team to provide thoughtful insights and decisions with the information it presents. This course focuses on critical thinking skills, financial data analysis and systems thinking to improve value-added decision-making. Participants are introduced to performing value-added financial data analysis with a focus on critically analyzing data versus naive data gathering. Discussions evaluate the different methods utilized in the problem-solving process with an emphasis on situational awareness and continuous evaluation. Participants understand how to identify trends and “stories” in the data that are important for improved decision-making.

Interest Rate Risk Management
Saturday, October 14 | 12:30-4:30 p.m.
Credits: 4.5 CTP | 4.5 FP&A | 4.5 CPE
Add $575

Although the vast majority of commercial borrowers have enjoyed low and stable interest rates over recent years, this phase of the economic cycle seems to be coming to a close. In March 2017, the Federal Reserve raised its benchmark interest rate by a quarter-point. Organizations can expect rate to increase a total of three times this year and likely next year as well. With proven risk management tools at the disposal of treasury and finance managers, there’s little justification for a company to be unprepared. This seminar teaches finance professionals the tools available for managing interest rate risks and how to manage strategy in order to achieve a variety of interest rate objectives.
SUNDAY PROGRAMS

NEW—Crafting a Corporate Payments Strategy
Sunday, October 15 | 8 a.m.-12 p.m.
Credits: 4.5 CTP | 4.5 FP&A | 4.5 CPE
Add $575

Payments are an important but often overlooked part of treasury professionals’ responsibilities. With the increasing proliferation of mobile technologies and growing demand for international transactions, how and when organizations make and receive payments has become a complex issue. Do you have a strategy or do you just take whatever comes over the transom? Treasury professionals are constantly balancing the varying costs and security of payment choices with requests from trading partners to accept new or different payment methods. This course will examine the importance of a formal payments strategy, the elements that comprise an effective strategy and how to go about building a strategy if your organization doesn’t already have one.

NEW—Building a Comprehensive Management Reporting System
Sunday, October 15 | 8 a.m.-12 p.m.
Credits: 4.5 CTP | 4.5 FP&A | 4.5 CPE
Add $575

No organization can function without thoughtful and effective management reporting. Well-designed and understandable management reports are a powerful tool for creating an enterprise-wide common language. By focusing on the critical financial information that needs to be communicated, this course identifies the design principles common to effective management reporting systems. Starting off with a blank Excel workbook, participants learn how to build a complete set of dashboards linked to the existing general ledger. This course provides an essential guide for FP&A professionals implementing management reporting in small-to-medium-sized organizations, as well as a valuable rapid-prototyping tool for even the largest organizations.

Financial Modeling:
Techniques and Best Practices
Sunday, October 15 | 8 a.m.-3:30 p.m.
Credits: 7.2 CTP | 7.2 FP&A | 7.2 CPE
Add $795

Financial professionals are frequently tasked with creating effective models that are accurate and dynamic. The power of a financial model comes from the ability to change the inputs and analyze the impact on outputs. This course introduces the key techniques and best practices for building financial models that facilitate a rational and rigorous decision-making process. Through hands-on examples in Excel, participants build financial models from scratch that produce baseline and dynamic outputs in response to changes in real-world scenarios. Examples and illustrations utilize financial and treasury applications.

NEW—Leading Transformation by Mastering Financial Data
Sunday, October 15 | 8 a.m.-3:30 p.m.
Credits: 7.2 CTP | 7.2 FP&A | 7.2 CPE
Add $795

Mastering data is key for finance and treasury departments. From the continuous flow of raw information generated by business partners and financial markets all the way to decision supported insight, gaining control of the data supply chain is more significant than ever.

This course empowers attendees to gain a complete, detailed understanding of data management and the foundations of digital transformation. Participants will explore practical approaches to prepare their financial data for faster, easier and more reliable analytics. This course presents methods for financial professionals to ensure timely and quality data, optimize analytics and reporting processes, and foster a data-driven culture in their organizations.

Only Humans Need Apply: Winners and Losers in the Age of Smart Machines

Julia Kirby reframes the conversation about automation, arguing that the future of increased productivity isn’t either human or machine. It’s both. The key is augmentation, utilizing technology to help humans work better, smarter, and faster. Instead of viewing these machines as competitors, we can see them as partners in creative problem solving. Kirby answers the question, “How will treasury and finance executives need to adapt for the coming disruption?”

Revised 07/31/2017
3 Extra Days in San Diego

Extending your stay? Great idea! We’ve put together an itinerary that covers the top sights and activities.

DAY 1

Your first day is all about getting to know America’s Finest City! Let Old Town Trolley Tours take you wherever you want to go with fully-narrated sightseeing tours that travel everywhere - from Old Town to Embarcadero and more.

Hungry after a full day of exploring? Good thing you’re in the city where tacos reign supreme. And what pairs more perfectly than the other famous San Diego menu item: craft beer. You can’t pass up a pint from the “Capital of Craft.”

DAY 2

Devote a day to exploring San Diego’s iconic Balboa Park. Start with a walk through the Spanish Village Art Center where 37 art studios showcase and sell all kinds of creations. If you’re interested in science, go to the Ruben H. Fleet Science Center and make sure to watch a visual spectacle in their IMAX dome, or check out the San Diego Air and Space Museum’s collection of historic aircrafts. After lunch, head to the world-famous San Diego Zoo in the heart of Balboa Park. Have some fun with pandas, polar bears and a new eight-acre Africa Rocks exhibit.

DAY 3

Your last day in San Diego is all about relaxation. Hop on a 15 minute ferry and head to Coronado Beach, consistently voted one of America’s finest beaches by The Travel Channel. Here you can dive in to the Pacific Ocean with paddleboard lessons or sit back and dig your toes into sand that literally sparkles – thanks to the mineral mica in its golden sand.

Then, stroll along Orange Avenue for shopping and dining or check out the Coronado Brewing Company for the freshest craft brew around.
You know AFP 2017 is the best place to discover the latest information for treasury and finance professionals, but you still might need to get approval from your boss. Use these tips to convince your boss that AFP 2017 truly is the most important event for treasury and finance:

#1: Research the agenda
Choose from +125 educational sessions, divided across 8 tracks, to determine which will help you best overcome your biggest challenges or give you new ideas to implement.

#2: Review the exhibitor list
More than 230 leading service providers will showcase their latest products and services. Visiting these exhibitors can help you determine solutions to streamline operations, cut costs and create business efficiencies.

#3: Check the networking opportunities
The connections you make at AFP 2017 are priceless. This is the ideal environment to meet with your peers to discuss issues and share solutions directly impacting your field of work.

#4: Earn recertification credits
The most simple and convenient way to earn recertification credits. Make the most of your time away from the office and earn CTP/CCM, FP&A, or CPE credits. Pending content approval.

#5: Save money
Book your hotel room through AFP’s Official Housing and receive discounted room rates. While some hotels are within walking distance of the Convention Center, free shuttle service is provided for all hotels that are not. You’ll also save when you take advantage of exhibit hall lunches and networking receptions. Plus, if you decide to attend Conference with three or more of your colleagues, team pricing will save you even more.

#6: Pass on your knowledge
Once you arrive back from Conference, brief your team and supervisor on new ideas, best practices and processes you can implement right away. You can even share educational session presentations.

#7: Share your goals
Fill out the AFP 2017 Approval Form on the next page and submit it to your boss. This letter will give examples of how the AFP 2017 will benefit you and your company.
Dear

AFP 2017 is the most important event for treasury and finance. Over 6,500 attendees will meet in San Diego, CA October 15–18, 2017 to share effective ideas and exchange best practices.

I believe my participation will bring new, innovative ideas to our organization. I’ll hear from thought leaders and distinguished speakers, learn best practices from my peers and find solutions to our organization’s issues at world-class educational sessions.

I would like to request approval to attend. You can visit www.AFP2017.org for more information.

I believe the following sessions will specifically benefit our organization:

I plan to speak with the following exhibitors to improve our operations:

These are my projected costs for attending AFP 2017:

Airfare –
Hotel –
Registration Fee –
Miscellaneous (meals/taxi) – $

I believe this event will have significant ROI for our organization. After returning, I’ll provide key takeaways and recommended actions.

I would appreciate your approval of this request.

Why should you attend AFP 2017 as a team?
— Divide and conquer the 125+ sessions together
— Gain a wealth of information and insight to share with each other
— Learn to work smarter together to become more efficient
— Analyze different perspectives from like-minded peers who deal with similar challenges
— Expand networking opportunities for your company

Significant savings for corporate practitioner teams. For qualifications and details, visit www.AFP2017.org, or download the form here.

“My professional mentors ingrained in me the importance of growing a department as a team and not just as individuals. AFP’s Conference provides an opportunity to do just that, to build and strengthen your team.”

— Adrienne Bolan, CTP
Senior Vice President and Treasurer, World Fuel Systems Corporation
Bringing a team to AFP’s Conference since 2012
